DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings were received on 6/22/2005. These drawings are accepted.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1, 6, and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fussnegger et al. (6,186,579).

Fussnegger et al. disclose a vehicle trim panel having an inner panel (8), an outer panel (7), and a vehicle body (5). The inner panel (8) has a first flexibility and an inner surface, outer surface, and a perimeter edge. The perimeter edge has an exposed surface, the elbow between element (13) and the main portion of panel (8). The perimeter edge extends around the inner and outer surfaces. The inner panel (8) is attached to the vehicle body (5) such that the exposed surface is spaced apart from the vehicle body (5) to define a gap between the inner panel (8) and the vehicle body (5). The outer panel (7) has a second flexibility greater than the first flexibility. The outer panel (7) covers a portion of the outer surface of the inner panel and extends beyond the perimeter edge, as seen in Figure 2. The outer panel (7) contacts the vehicle body (5) when the inner panel (8) is attached to the vehicle body (5) so as to close the gap between the inner (8) and the vehicle body (5) to prevent or reduce the ingress of air, moisture or noise into the vehicle passenger compartment. In reference to claim 11, the covering (7) has a first flexibility and is deposited over at least a portion of the outer surface of a vehicle trim panel (8) having a second flexibility less than the first flexibility so that a portion of the covering extends beyond an outer exposed edge of the vehicle trim panel. The portion of the flexible covering (7) that extends beyond the outer exposed edge of the vehicle trim panel is placed against the vehicle body (5) to reduce the gap between the vehicle trim panel and the vehicle body.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 2-5, 7-10, 12-15 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
